About the Author:

Quint Studer is author of Building a Vibrant Community: How Citizen-Powered Change is Reshaping America. He is founder of Pensacola's Studer Community Institute, a nonprofit organization focused on improving the community's quality of life and moving Escambia and Santa Rosa counties forward. Quint is a businessman, a visionary, an entrepreneur, and a mentor to many. He currently serves as the Entrepreneur-in-Residence at the University of West Florida.

He is also president of Vibrant Community Partners, a company that coaches communities in building out a blueprint for achieving growth and excellence. The firm focuses on education, downtown development, and economic development, including training for small businesses and civic engagement. It also leverages the Center for Entrepreneurship and the Center for Civic Engagement—two affiliated training organizations—to help you reach your potential.

VCP has a gift for zeroing in on what makes your community special. Then, it helps you amplify these attributes and tell your story to the world. In short, VCP helps you shape that distinctive “sense of place” that attracts investors, new talent, and visitors and keeps your young people from moving away.

Quint is also author of The Busy Leader's Handbook: How to Lead People and Places That Thrive, which brings together much of what he has learned throughout his career in business and as a community leader. He uses it as a springboard for communities that want to strengthen and galvanize their local business presence as they move toward vibrancy.
